Barony of l'Île du Dragon
Dormant

Historical Reenactment
Renaissance and Middle Ages

What is the SCA?

The SCA is an international not-for-profit organization that tries to recreate the arts and sciences, the way of life and the warfare of the Middle Ages. It also covers the beginning of the Renaissance up to 1600.

What is the Barony of l'Île du Dragon?

The Barony of Dragon Dormant is the SCA group that covers the island of Montreal and some parts of the province of Quebec. There are other active groups in Saint-Jean, Trois-Rivières, Rouyn-Noranda, Québec, Chicoutimi and Rimouski.

Martial Arts

Martial arts include fencing, archery and heavy fighting, also called rattan because of the material used to build our swords. There are different styles of heavy fighting such as sword and shield, two handed weapons, etc.

You've always been interested in the Middle Ages? You dream of participating in the legends of King Arthur?

The other activities

Other activities include what was necessary for every life at the time: cooking, armouring and weapons making, sewing and textile arts, leather working, embroidery, brewing, calligraphy and illumination, dancing, songs and music, and many more! If you have a special interest in an activity, it will be our pleasure to share it with you.

During the summer, events usually take place outside and last the whole weekend. They are camping events where the main activities are, most of the times, martial arts and bonfires!

Events throughout the SCA

Events organized by the SCA take place every day, all around the world. Many groups in Ontario and United States are close enough to visit them in one day. The climax of event season every year is the Great Pennsic War, which takes place in Pennsylvania, lasts two weeks and attracts thousands of medieval period enthusiasts from all over the world.

Events organized by Dragon Dormant

We get together at weekend-long events where we compete in tournaments and fight in battles and wars. We exchange ideas, learn and teach the ways of the Middle Ages. We gather around a bonfire to sing, dance and exchange stories.

Events take place all year round, usually on weekends. During the winter, a typical event will include fighting and tournaments, exhibitions, classes or contests in the Arts and Sciences, followed by a court and ending with a feast.

If you're looking for a good way to get away from your daily concerns, even if only for a weekend, and you're interested in historical re-enactment, come and join the fun!
